

MATRIX ADHESIVES GROUP ACQUIRES LOHNPACK CONTRACT FILLING

March 21, 2022 – Matrix Adhesives Group (“Matrix”), a leading North American adhesive and sealant manufacturing and packaging platform, has completed its acquisition of Lohnpack Contract Filling (“Lohnpack”), a niche provider of unique packaging and filling capabilities located in Hamilton, NJ. This acquisition broadens the Company’s capabilities while strengthening its commitment to customers to provide a broad suite of formulating, compounding, manufacturing, and packaging solutions.

“We are excited to partner with Dan Mottram and the entire Lohnpack team,” said Dan Horner, CEO of Matrix Adhesives Group. “Dan has built an impressive, customer-focused business. We admire and share his customer-centric philosophy and look forward to continuing to provide customers exceptional service and product offerings.”

Lohnpack offers customers filling and packaging capabilities across a variety of chemistries and package types, with a particular focus on plural component product lines. The Company operates out of a 46,000 sq. ft. facility utilizing specialized, high-performance filling and packaging machinery.

“We are very pleased to become part of Matrix Adhesives Group. The partnership will bring new opportunities for growth and new investment to enable us to better serve our customers’ growing needs,” said Dan Mottram, President of Lohnpack.

Lohnpack is Matrix Adhesive Group’s first acquisition in 2022.
